Subject: Chesapeake Bay TMDL Comments

Ms. Sincock,

I have been trying to upload the attached comments on the proposed Chesapeake Bay TMDL since approximately 10:00 p.m. this evening (November 8), but the www.regulations.gov website does not seem to be functioning properly. For this docket – and every other docket that I tried – when I click on “Submit Comments,” a page that says “Document Does Not Exist” appears. I have contacted www.regulations.gov through their website contact form, but I will not hear back from them until after the comment deadline has passed.

I know that comments on the TMDL are supposed to be submitted through the www.regulations.gov website and not to this email address, but I hope that since the website is not working, you can accept these comments for the docket, or perhaps I will be able to upload them through the website once it is working again. (I originally tried to send this email to the R3_ChesapeakeBay_TMDL@epa.gov, but that did not work, either.)

Thank you,

Cynthia
